Promise and Deliverance Student Workbook Feb 23 2022 When S.G. De Graaf wrote his four-volume series, Promise and Deliverance, he showed educators how to teach Bible stories from a redemptive-historical perspective. Rather than turning Bible stories into moralistic tales, De Graaf taught us how all the Bible shows God revealing himself as the God of the covenant, who is working out His redemptive plan for humanity and all of creation. The 80 workbooks written by Harvey De Groot are meant to supplement De Graaf's work. They are divided by volume and level number: 20 volumes with four levels per volume. Workbook lessons are written at four levels so that families with students in various grades can study the same Bible stories during the week in preparation for their classes on Sunday. Prior to class, the Sunday School teacher should study the lesson in De Graaf's book. The teacher and students can go through the workbook during class. The levels are divided according to the following grades: -Level One: Grades K-1-Level Two: Grades 2-3-Level Three: Grades 4-6-Level Four: Grades 7-8 Each volume contains 12 or 13 lessons, and each lesson has the following sections: -Reference: The volume and lesson number in De Graaf's series. -Scripture: The passage from Scripture on which the lesson is based. -Memory Verse: A memory verse related to the lesson-Lesson Truth: A short statement to help the class focus on the main point of the lesson. -Lesson: The lesson itself, which the teacher can read in class. For older grades, the teacher may opt to assign it as homework. -Questions: Items to be discussed in class. For older grades, the teacher can assign these questions as homework but should also use them as a basis for class discussion. These are not the only questions that could or should be asked. Teachers should encourage students to come with their own questions as well. This edition was written by Harvey De Groot and edited by his son Norlan De Groot. This book is volume 5, which contains the following lessons: 1. The Head of the People Upheld (Num. 16:1-40) 2. A Thriving Priesthood (Num. 16:41-17:13) 3. The Living God (Num. 20:1-13) 4. Modern Mandarin Chinese Nov 03 2022 Modern Mandarin Chinese is a two-year undergraduate course for students with no prior background in Chinese study. Designed to build a strong foundation in both the spoken and written language, it develops all the basic skills such as pronunciation, character writing, word use, and structures, while placing a strong emphasis on the development of communicative skills. A free companion website provides all the audio for the course with a broad range of interactive exercises and additional resources for students' self-study, along with a comprehensive instructor's guide with teaching tips, assessment and homework material, and a full answer key. Key changes to this new edition: An increased number of vocabulary and characters introduced. 255 characters are introduced in this second edition for active production. Dialogues and example sentences are also presented in full-character format for passive recognition, and to provide additional challenge for more advanced students. Additional exercises in the workbooks and online to support the expanded number of words and characters incorporated into the textbooks. Prior to class, the Sunday School teacher should study the lesson in De Graaf's book. The teacher and students can go through the workbook during class. The levels are divided according to the following grades:

Level One: Grades K-1 *Level Two: Grades 2-3 *Level Three: Grades 4-6 *Level Four: Grades 7-8 Each volume contains 12 or 13 lessons, and each lesson has the following sections: Reference: The volume and lesson number in De Graaf's series. Scripture: The passage from Scripture on which the lesson is based. Memory Verse: A memory verse related to the lesson Lesson Truth: A short statement to help the class focus on the main point of the lesson. Lesson: The lesson itself, which the teacher can read in class. For older grades, the teacher may opt to assign it as homework. Questions: Items to be discussed in class. For older grades, the teacher can assign these questions as homework but should also use them as a basis for class discussion. These are not the only questions that could or should be asked. Teachers should encourage students to come with their own questions as well. This edition was written by Harvey De Groot and edited by his son Norlan De Groot. Horizons Threes Student Wrkb Mar 03 2020 Create a fun learning experience for your three-year-old with activities that develop age-appropriate skills. Each lesson corresponds to the daily Bible Story Reader selection and includes four worksheets, as well as an additional worksheet in the Student Workbook Companion. Through a developmental sequence of skills, the 40 lessons cover counting, tracing, matching, and sequencing, as well as recognizing letters, numbers, shapes, colors, and more. Expectations for what students can accomplish on each of the worksheets should match their abilities, which will vary greatly at this age. Some will be able to write, trace, and color, while others will develop these motor skills as they advance in the course. Some matching activities may need to be completed orally, and successful tracing may require the teacher to draw dotted lines. Some students will be able to use pencils, but crayons will work best for most. Handwriting activities are included for practice but not necessarily mastery. Allowing students to trace letters with their fingers and guiding their hands through letter formations is perfectly acceptable in this workbook from Alpha Omega Publications..
