A Study on Consumer Decision Making of Canned Foods Purchases in Seri Iskandar Influenced by Packaging Mar 12 2021 Research Paper (postgraduate) from the year 2015 in the subject Business economics - Marketing, Corporate Communication, CRM, Market Research, Social Media, grade: Distinction, , course: Higher National Diploma in Business (Marketing), language: English, abstract: Consumer decision making is very familiar in business matter especially in marketing scope. Every person in this world has the right to make decision when purchasing a product or goods. Consumer decision making can be identified as a consumer uses to make purchase decisions, as well as to use and dispose of purchased goods or services; also includes factors that influence purchase decisions and the product use. People will identify their needs and make decision making to purchase something. It determined by psychological and economic factors. Nowadays, communities are too busy with their daily routine such as working, studying and so on. Regarding these matters, communities will purchase something that gives convenient for them whenever they are in hurry. In order to overcome the barriers, so they usually purchase groceries especially canned foods to cook because it is less time consuming. Normally, attractive packaging of canned foods will be chosen. Attractive packaging can influence people to purchase the products. This research utilized a focus group methodology to understand consumer decision making toward canned foods and how packaging elements can affect buying decisions. Most impulse buying occurs because of product display, and attractive packaging plays an important role in product display. Packaging seems to be one of the most important factors in purchase decisions made at the point of sale. Previous studies have indicated that packaging is a marketing communication vehicle used to capture consumer attention. Other researcher also defined packaging as the enclosing of a physical object, typically a product that will be offered for sale. It is the process of preparing items of equipment for transportation and storage and which embraces preservation, identification and packaging of products. The International Student's Guide to Writing a Research Paper Dec 29 2019 The International Student's Guide to Writing a Research Paper is a reference text for undergraduate students and those in ESL or bridge courses who are writing a research paper for the first time. This book is partly an update of Writing a Research Paper (by Lionel Menasche, 1998) and partly a companion to The ESL Writer's Handbook. Each section of the book includes a discrete task called a Building Block, which requires students to apply the skills learned toward the development of their own paper. This step-by-step approach allows students to construct knowledge as they become more familiar with the process, making writing a research paper a less intimidating task. Special features: This guide uses simple direct language for those for whom writing a research paper is new. Most example writing is from international students in an ESL program or first-year writing class, including two sample papers—one in APA and one in MLA. A section on responding to instructor feedback to provide students with the tools to read and understand comments and use them to improve the first draft. A subsection dedicated to constructing clear and cohesive paragraphs and sentences. The guide includes citation and style examples in MLA 8th edition.

Clay Nanoparticles Jul 24 2019 Clay Nanoparticles: Properties and Applications sets out the major properties of clay nanoparticles and their technological applications. The first part of the book focuses on the characterization of nanoclays, including layered, fibrous and tubular clay minerals. The second part illustrates the current and potential applications of nanoclays within material science and biotechnology. These include the development of geopolymers and bionanocomposites based on sustainable polymers filled with ecocompatible nanoclay. The potential use of nanoclays as flame retardants is also discussed, along with the correlation between the properties and potential applications of several nanoclay types. In particular, the applications explored include nanoclays as drug delivery systems and for environmental protection. The book provides a complete and multidisciplinary exploration of nanoclays, highlighting a range of perspectives within current nanotechnology research. Assesses the advantages of using nanoclays instead of conventional clay materials in product design Describes the major characterization techniques - both experimental and computational - for nanoclays Explores new fabrication techniques based on pristine and modified clay nanoparticles that are being used both in materials science and biotechnology

Analytics and Dynamic Customer Strategy Dec 09 2020 Key decisions determine the success of big data strategy Dynamic Customer Strategy: Big Profits from Big Data is a comprehensive guide to exploiting big data for both business-to-consumer and business-to-business marketing. This complete guide provides a process for rigorous decision making in navigating the data-driven industry shift, informing marketing practice, and aiding businesses in early adoption. Using data from a five-year study to illustrate important concepts and scenarios along the way, the author speaks directly to marketing and operations professionals who may not necessarily be big data savvy. With expert insight and clear analysis, the book helps eliminate paralysis-by-analysis and optimize decision making for marketing performance. Nearly seventy-five percent of marketers plan to adopt a big data analytics solution within two years, but many are likely to fail. Despite intensive planning, generous spending, and the best intentions, these initiatives will not succeed without a manager at the helm who is capable of handling the nuances of big data projects. This requires a new way of marketing, and a new approach to data. It means applying new models and metrics to brand new consumer behaviors. Dynamic Customer Strategy clarifies the situation, and highlights the key decisions that have the greatest impact on a company's big data plan. Topics include: Applying the elements of Dynamic Customer Strategy Acquiring, mining, and analyzing data Metrics and models for big data utilization Shifting perspective from model to customer Big data is a tremendous opportunity for marketers and may just be the only factor that will allow marketers to keep pace with the changing consumer and thus keep brands relevant at a time of unprecedented choice. But like any tool, it must be wielded with skill and precision. Dynamic Customer Strategy: Big Profits from Big Data helps marketers shape a strategy that works.

Impact of Motivations to Generate User-Generated Content on Purchasing Decisions of Consumers of Hospitality Industry in Pakistan Apr 12 2021 Thesis (M.A.) from the year 2014 in the subject Business economics - Marketing, Corporate Communication, CRM, Market Research, Social Media, grade: 3.7, Lovely Professional University, Punjab (IBIT), course: marketing, language: English, abstract: Social networking has become a vital component of the current era which is not only being utilized by the public but also the corporate sector is using it for marketing purposes. The success of social web as a marketing tool is because of its enormous usage and it bears minimum cost to the firms. Over the past few decades the use of personal computers and laptops has increased dramatically. Moreover the use of Internet and the social websites is progressing among the users. Different business companies are taking the advantage of this trend and are using social network as a vehicle to reach millions of their customers and repeat buyers. For industry such as hospitality industry where it is extremely important to stay in touch with customers constantly and provide them latest updates regarding the services, social networking sites are being considered one of the most effective and efficient tool. However the corporate firms are not utilizing this platform to its maximum level and there is still lot more potential that has to be explored and understood. The purpose of this study is to evaluate the effect of the customer/user generated advertisement on the hospitality industry and analyze the different marketing strategies being implemented by the organizations to reach masses of their customers. The paper will explain the factors influencing the consumer's purchase intention and brand loyalty. The objective of the research paper is not only to calculate the number of hospitality firms using the social network actively but analyze the different sectors and functions of the social media being implemented by the industry for advertisement.

The research paper also explains the advantage of using the social networking sites for advertisement. Technical Paper (United States. Bureau of the Census). Sep 17 2021

Cross-Cultural Differences in Electronic Word-of-Mouth Influence on Purchase Intention Aug 17 2021 Master's Thesis from the year 2016 in the subject Business economics - Marketing, Corporate Communication, CRM, Market Research, Social Media, grade: 74%, University of Warwick, language: English, abstract: International marketers are trying to encourage positive electronic word-of-mouth (eWoM) about their products and services. The question of whether consumers in different cultures respond differently to eWoM is critical if marketers are to leverage the potentially global power of eWoM. The central objective of this study is to critically evaluate whether espoused national cultural values at the individual level influence the effect of eWoM on consumers' purchase intention. Prior cross-cultural eWoM research mostly studied culture at the country level. This paper draws on perspectives in cultural psychology and cross-cultural research that argue that individuals espouse national cultural values to different degrees. Therefore, predicting the influence of culture on individuals' behaviour necessitates to assess cultural values by personality tests at the individual level of analysis. Yet, no research can sufficiently answer the question of how individual level culture may influence the effect of eWoM on purchase intention. The present research addresses this gap by measuring espoused national cultural values of power distance, uncertainty avoidance, individualism/collectivism, and masculinity/femininity at the individual level of analysis and investigating their influence on the effect of eWoM on purchase intention. An experiment, using a repeated measures design, was conducted with 100 subjects from 18 countries. The results reveal that, as expected, consumers' purchase intentions are significantly higher after reading eWoM than after reading factual information on a company website. Further, the results show that, contrary to expectations, this effect is not significantly influenced by the national cultural values an individual espouses. This implies that traditional market segmentations based on culture are of limited relevance in the online market place. Theoretical and managerial implications are discussed.

May 14 2021 Research Paper (postgraduate) from the year 2012 in the subject Business economics - Operations Research, grade: B, The University of Liverpool, language: English, abstract: This paper investigates the influence of e-commerce and related factors on the consumer behaviour with respect to the purchase decisions of mobile phones. The different factors that influence the consumer behaviour related to buying mobile phones have been identified in this research. Electronic commerce or e-Commerce consists of the buying and selling of products and services over electronic systems such as the Internet and other computer networks. The amount of trade conducted electronically is remarkably increased with the widespread use of the Internet (Blackwell, 2006). To facilitate global trade various schemes for transaction of electronic money have been introduced. Such schemes offer concrete solutions to the risk associated with trust, information security, international finance, and other factors posing uncertainty. Trust is a major focus of e-commerce professionals. In traditional trade much of mechanisms for building trust are related to the form of communication between the participants and costs related to the contact in person. In case of remote access (in terms of the Internet, for example) many of the traditional mechanisms for establishing trust between participants exists. Therefore, options to enhance or introduce other new mechanisms are used for confidence building (Bodenhausen, 2012). There are different forms of e-commerce. The e-commerce models are:

Word-of-Mouth: Influences on the choice of Recommendation Sources Aug 24 2019 Inhaltsangabe:Abstract: The idea of understanding consumer behaviour as a sequential decision-making process is one that is common in marketing. The decision-making process itself is presented as a logical flow of activities, working from problem recognition to purchase to post-purchase evaluation. This decision-making process is affected by a number of other more complex influences.
Some of these influences relate to the wider environment in which the decision is being made while others relate to the individual who makes the decision. In this context, .. [o]ne of the most widely accepted notions in consumer behavior is that word-of-mouth communication (hereafter WOM) plays an important role in shaping consumers' attitudes and behaviors.
More specifically, WOM communications between consumers are a topic of interest in both the pre-purchase and post-purchase decision-making literature. Research into the diffusion of innovations has focused on modelling the role of WOM in product adoption at various stages of the diffusion process. WOM has also been studied as a mechanism through which consumers convey both informational and normative influences in the product evaluation. Finally, WOM has been identified as an important post-purchase complaining option.

Although WOM plays an important role in consumer pre-purchase and post-purchase decision-making, research into this phenomenon has been fragmented.
Importantly, relatively little attention has been directed at understanding key issues with respect to WOM recommendation sources and the factors that influence their use. The aim of the present work is to add to this small body of empirical research. The main part of this paper is divided into two chapters. Chapter 2, that follows an introduction to the work, is a theoretical one. It is a review of the literature on consumer decision-making and the individual and environmental influences on it.
Emphasis is being placed on WOM communication and its role in understanding consumer behaviour. Chapter 3 focuses on the choice of WOM recommendation sources.
Empirical research is presented which explores the influences on the choice over WOM recommendation sources. Finally, concluding remarks and recommendations for further research can be found in chapter 4.

Media, grade: none, Dr. M.G.R. University, course: Ph. D, language: English, abstract: The current trend has been changing and it is becoming quite difficult to become and sustain as leader in the market. Mostly it is there in the hands of consumers to choose and make market leaders in that particular industry. The consumers are becoming very choosy and take a hell lot of things into consideration before buying a product from the market. The retailing sector is booming now and even the consumers are also seeking more information while purchasing. The malls and big shopping centers are becoming crowded and people are willing to do the window shopping before purchasing. There are several other behavioral issues relating to the consumer buying behavior. Infact, it is increasingly becoming difficult to turn consumers into customers. Previously the aim of marketing is to meet and satisfy target customer's needs and wants. But now it is much more beyond that. It is customer delighting now. At the same time, the marketers also facing tough competition and they need to face many challenges yet. Understanding consumer behavior and "knowing customers" are never simple. Establishing brand loyalty is increasingly becoming difficult. The customers at any time can go for other brands for any reason. This paper highlights various issues or aspects that a consumer takes care during purchasing activity. This paper deals with how consumers are choosing their brands and how intensive they are during pre purchase system. This paper was also based on the research work done.

Factors influencing the impulse buying behaviour of apparel consumers

Feb 29 2020 Master's Thesis from the year 2009 in the subject Business economics - Marketing, Corporate Communication, CRM, Market Research, Social Media, grade: Pass, , course: MBA - Consumer Behaviour, language: English, abstract: Consumer behaviour is always a very interesting and complex subject for all marketers and retailers. This study is also about a part of this complex subject- Impulse Buying behaviour found among Apparel Buyers and the influence of special prices and other factors on it. The study dealt with a very important topic in the modern fierce competition scenario, because impulse buying tendency spread all over the world and it is no more crazy habits of Americans. The income from impulse purchases phenomenally increasing every year and that's why the subject getting more and more importance these days. The tendency is more intense as far as apparel purchases are concerned. Here the author did an effort to understand the causes and factors for impulse buying in apparels. Commonly special price is considered to be the most influential factor of impulse purchases. This study was comparative study between the influence of special prices and other variables. The methodology used for primary data collection was a combination of a questionnaire survey and a personal interview after that, with the customers of a leading retailer store for apparels in London. About 60 customers were surveyed. The result was pretty interesting, the variables studied in the research found to be more or less equal influential on customers though special prices top the list with a very little margin. The study concluded that most of the impulse purchases happen due to a combined influence of various factors. The impulse generated when a customer see an in-store display indicating a special price of a product can be taken as an example. So, for marketers, in order to make good results in impulse purchases they should coordinate various variables in an effective way, instead of concentrating only on a particular factor. The small size of sample and uncontrollable condition of current world economic condition could be taken as limitations for this study; otherwise the study was pretty general and standard in nature and was very useful and informative for practical applications.
